PACIFIC BEACHITES GOOD BOOSTERS

LARGE DELEGATION OF NEIGHBORLY VISITORS FROM THE NORTH PAY A DELIGHTFUL RETURN VISIT TO THE O. B. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The cheerful attendance of a goodly number of the members of the Pacific Beach Community League greatly enlivened the regular meeting of the O. B. Chamber of Commerce last Monday night at the Ocean Theater.

City Manager Fred A. Rhodes was also a guest of honor and made some very lucid explanations of a series of problems confronting both communities. He officially announced that Ocean Beach is to get several new lights installed at points now relegated to darkness, while an extra water main is soon to be supplied this district.

The riddle of the "elevated railway" on Voltaire street was also solved by Mr. Rhodes, who said the tracks would be reduced to their proper level as soon as the street railway company received its shipment of new rails.

The ordering in of sidewalks by the city council in conformity with a request from the O. B. Chamber, was announced. In the matter of free postal delivery, it was concluded to postpone action for six months to await more mature developments.

After considerable backslage among those present, it was finally determined in all seriousness to advise a solidarity of action by beach folks in supporting only those candidates at the forthcoming election who believed in giving this section of the city its actual due.

DEATH OF ELMER L. ALLEN

The demise is announced of the death on January 17, at the family residence, 3321 Curtis street, Point Loma, of Elmer L. Allen, father of Elliott Victor Allen of Berkeley, brother of Elmer V. Allen of Seelye, Calif., Wallace B. Allen of Lakeside, Calif., and Mae Allen of Glendale, Calif. The deceased was a native of Minnesota aged 60 years 9 months 17 days. His death was very sudden from heart failure and before a physician could be summoned. He was the owner of a bungalow on Saratoga avenue, Ocean Beach, and also conducted a small store near the railroad switch on the Voltaire street hill.

WHY THE MAIL WAS LATE

The regular mail car piloted by Charles C. Shaver, star route mail carrier between Point Loma, Ocean Beach and San Diego, came into collision last Wednesday with a street car on Fort Rosecrans street, causing serious damages to the mail conveyance.

Driver Shaver was badly shaken up and was unable to make his round trip. Postmaster Rankin took the afternoon mail to San Diego in his own car, and yesterday Shaver showed up with a new machine. The question of responsibility for the collision is still a matter of argument.

COMING FROM NEBRASKA

O. C. Bedford of Geneva, Nebraska is on his way here to visit his brother, Ed Bedford, the clever and popular mechanic with the O. B. Park Service Station. Mr. Bedford will very likely become a permanent Beach resident.

AN ELECTRICAL HIT

New Ocean Beach Branch of the Popular Philip Mayer Company Commands Instant Favor

With their slogan of "Beach Prices Same as in the City," the famous Philip Mayer Company, electrical engineers and contractors of 848 Seventh street, San Diego, hit the nail straight on the head when they opened their Ocean Beach branch at 1957 Abbott street last week.

There's an old saying that the battle is half won by starting right, and the Philip Mayer Company has certainly used sound judgment by doing that very thing in announcing their business policy.

With two such able and astute electricians as Fred Byrum and Fred J. Caywood in charge of the Ocean Beach branch, the outlook for substantial success is most encouraging indeed. The first named Fred is a well-known resident here and has the local situation at his fingers' ends, while the other Fred has long had his abiding place at Pacific Beach and stands in the front rank of skilled men in the electrical world. Hence it's dollars to doughnuts that any electrical job turned over to the two Freds will be promptly turned out in tip-top shape and to the entire satisfaction of all concerned.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

HERE'S POSITIVE PROOF THAT YOUR OWN LOCAL PAPER IS A STANDARD GUIDE TO NEWCOMERS.

An excellent illustration of the true value of advertising in "The Beach News," the following voluntary testimonial, concisely speaks for itself in a most intelligent and convincing manner:

Dear News:

As a business directory of the Beach your paper is proving very useful.

We, as newcomers, have learned where to get things, and have also learned that the resources of the locality are most adequate to the needs of daily living.

We thank you for the tips your ads give us.

Truly,
ROSE MORRISON.

Ocean Beach, Jan. 17, '23.

CANDIDATES FOR MAYOR

William H. P. Shelton, familiarly known to his many friends as "Trusty" Shelton, has announced his candidacy for mayor at the forthcoming election.

Another candidate announced by his hosts of friends for the mayoralty position is Lucius R. Barrow, the popular ex-postmaster of San Diego.

PARCELS POST TO CANADA

Parcels post packages to the limit of 11 pounds may be sent to Canada according to announcement recently made. The packages may be three and one-half feet long, but must not exceed six feet in girth and length combined.

These parcels may also be insured against loss, rifling, or damage on the same fee charged for packages sent in this country. The rate for parcels post packages is 12 cents a pound or fraction, but parcels less than four ounces are mailable at the rate of one cent per ounce or fraction.

No custom declarations are necessary, the letter states, but packages for Canada should be marked "Parcels Post" to distinguish them.

Fine photographic views of Torrey Pines, can be obtained from Photographer FROIDE, 5019 Newport avenue, opposite postoffice, Ocean Beach.

CHEERING WORDS FROM A LAND OF ICICLES AND SNOW

MRS. D. H. SIMPSON SENDS HER SUBSCRIPTION FROM HER HOME IN NOVA SCOTIA TO KEEP IN TOUCH WITH THE GLORIES OF OCEAN BEACH AND SUNNY CALIFORNIA.

The Beach News

Ocean Beach, Calif.

Mr. Editor, Dear Sir—Through the kindness of our mutual friend, D. C. Crosby, Esq., I received a copy of your excellent paper. It was doubly welcome, bringing, as it did, a gleam of California sunshine into our northern winter, where the snow lies piled in great drifts and icicles measuring four feet hang from a nearby roof. "But it might be wuss," especially when the sun on the snow covered trees, fields and ice fettered waters, transforms all into a veritable fairyland.

I read your paper with great interest, recognizing many of the names as those of old friends, and recalling the happy days spent at Ocean Beach during the winter of 1917.

Nor does my northern home seem so far removed now, for from our "radio" we can hear singers, speakers and musicians who are "broadcasting" in San Diego.

Wishing you and your paper continued success and true prosperity to Ocean Beach, where I hope to own a home in the near future, I am, very sincerely, yours,

MRS. D. H. SIMPSON.
Wolfville, Nova Scotia.
January 7th, 1923.

P. S.—Enclosed please find one dollar for which please send me your paper one year.—Mrs. D. H. S.

A SMALL WORLD AFTER ALL

The very cheerful communication from Mrs. D. H. Simpson finds a happy echo here—Ocean Beach clapping hands with Wolfville in an immediate manner; when it is recorded that one of our most prominent and progressive citizens came direct from Nova Scotia way within easy distance of Mrs. Simpson's present place of abode amid icicles and snow.

M. J. Sterling and his brother, who are well and favorably known to all Beachites as the guiding spirits of Reid's Express, are natives of Nova Scotia, being born at Windsor, just 16 miles from Wolfville, and know that country like a book, having traversed every rod of it in boyhood days.

Mrs. Oscar Bishop and Mrs. Vaughan, sister of the Sterling brothers, are also happy residents of Ocean, with Wolfville, N. S., as their place of nativity.

YEAR 'ROUND TOYS

It really goes without saying that children never seem to have enough toys and they are always wanting new ones—and that's just where Passmore's Year 'Round Toy Store fills the bill. Playthings for the little ones are made a specialty at this famous San Diego store on Sixth street, between B and C, where the popular proprietors are also featuring a complete line of brass bird cages and dog supplies.

John B. Rousseau of 4480 Green street has recently finished a fine new residence for Mr. and Mrs. Baston on Soto street. They have recently moved into their new home and expressed themselves as being of the building, done under the supervision of Mr. Rousseau.

"THE PRIDE OF PALOMAR"

Famous San Diego Picture to Be Shown at Ocean Theater Next Wednesday and Thursday

Direct from the Graumann $2,000,000 theater in Los Angeles, the famous San Diego picture, "The Pride of Palomar," will be shown as a special feature at the Ocean Theater next Wednesday and Thursday night.

Always on the alert to please his patrons, Manager Ericsson has picked off this top-notch film while its fame is still fresh, and will present it in its wonderful entirety as witnessed last week by thousands at the finest playhouse in Southern California.

The scenes in "The Pride of Palomar" are laid mostly right at the door of San Diego, and the story is said to be exceptionally striking with climaxes that fairly enthrall to the highest degree. In a word, it's a picture one can't afford to miss.

The other current bookings at the Ocean Theater are high-class in every respect and the comedies interspersed are of such a strong caliber as to give old dull care the merry ha! ha! at every turn of the wheel.

WARNING

DOG OWNERS ARE WARNED TO KEEP THEIR CANINES AWAY FROM THE POSTOFFICE

C. K. Maupin, poundmaster of San Diego, is making a house-to-house canvass at the Beach for the purpose of furnishing licenses to all owners of dogs and to eradicate the stray canine and cat evil. The pound has been recently added to the operating department of the city and stringent measures will now be taken to see that all dogs are duly licensed and kept within bounds.

Poundmaster Maupin is a resident of Ocean Beach, and he says a strong effort will be at once made to do away with the nuisance of dogs congregating around the postoffice. Wagon trips will be made daily until all loose dogs are captured and taken to the pound.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Attend the council meeting at the City Hall on Monday, January 29, if you wish to prevent the readjustment of your assessment bill for street paving and the probable addition of several dollars to the bill originally rendered by the bonding and collecting company.

DEMISE OF MR. C. M. WOOD

The death is announced at the residence, Ocean Beach, January 14, 1923, Calvin Maples Wood, husband of Francis Wood, Ocean Beach, and father of Percy L. Wood, San Diego; R. M. Wood, San Francisco; Mrs. Grace E. Oeser and Mrs. Mabel J. Oakley of Ocean Beach; a native of New York, aged 85 years.

GOATS AND COWS

According to the old city charter, any body and everybody can keep three goats and one cow on their premises—that is, if they'll keep 'em clean and sanitary—meaning the premises, of course. And, that law still goes for any and all parts of the city of San Diego and its suburbs.

THE BEACH GETS ANOTHER LIVE WIRE

MANAGER C. L. SHACTEBEC, OF THE OLDS AND STOLLER INTER-EXCHANGE AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE, BECOMES A FULL-FLEDGED CITIZEN

That army of folks who are finding that Ocean Beach offers and affords everything conducive to contentment and happiness in living conditions is being augmented wonderfully this winter. New, substantial houses are going up in every section and really worthwhile places of abode are in constant demand.

Among the latest enthusiastic residential recruits is Manager C. L. Shactebec of the Olds and Stoller Inter-Exchange Automobile Insurance of San Francisco. Mr. Shactebec spent the holidays in his home town, Oakland, Calif., where he was formerly managing the Olds and Stoller Automobile Insurance Branch before coming to San Diego, where he started a new branch in February last year.

Mr. Shactebec was in consultation with the main office in San Francisco for quite a number of days, and has brought back certain novelties in automobile insurance, which are of extreme importance and benefit to the insured.

Mr. Shactebec says: "The Olds and Stoller Company is purely a service organization. Automobile insurance is essentially almost entirely a matter of service. Therefore, an institution that is in the business from a service standpoint could reasonably be expected to offer a better protection to the policyholder. Specializing in automobile insurance only enables us to perfect this service, eliminate all unnecessary expense and operate along efficient lines."

In describing his vacation trip, Mr. Shactebec writes: "Of course, as far as my home in concerned, we had the most glorious time over Christmas and New Year, with all the children congregated at the family table, over which many a battle was fought, causing, oftentimes, the rest of the day, a little derangement of vital organs. But in the anticipation of the enjoyment, I believe, a good time was had by all. I left home with the greatest confidence of being able to sell the same soon, and will then immediately build on my lots, which were recently purchased by me on the West Point Loma boulevard, and will be a full-fledged Ocean Beach citizen."

Mr. Shactebec has joined the O. B. Chamber of Commerce as a very active member, and is a staunch supporter of his new home town weekly paper.

"BALLOON" DANCE TONIGHT

Everything points to a high-flying time tonight at Benbough's "Garden of Eden," where a rollicking "balloon" dance is scheduled by the management. An augmented orchestra has been especially secured for the airy occasion and the pavilion promises to be a veritable forest of bobbling balloons in all the wonderful prismatic colors of the rainbow.

Mr. Maddox has been very unfortunate, this being his second serious mishap in a short time.

Bernie Kennelly of Mandan, North Dakota, is visiting his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Clarke of 4761 Niagara avenue. The little daughter of Mr. Kennelly, who has been with Mrs. Clarke for the last three years, will return with her father to North Dakota.

Mrs. Hamilan is the sister of Mrs. Burdette and Mrs. Muller, the mother, who is 85 years old, stood the trip wonderfully well. This charming lady was here nine years ago, and was astonished at the wonderful improvements she noted here. They expect to remain here quite a while. We indeed welcome you back Mrs. Muller, and hope you will like us well enough to remain here permanently.

R. H. Lockett has been quite ill at his home on Long Branch avenue for the past fortnight, and his many friends will be happy to hear that he is now well on the road to recovery.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Will Angier, assistant superintendent of schools, has stated that the two junior high schools in San Diego will be unable to take care of the 6 A grade graduates this semester.

The two junior high schools, it is authoritatively said, are taxed to capacity at present and as there are no graduates at either this spring, students who would graduate from the grammar schools will have to remain in their respective buildings until next fall.

It has been stated that the school board planned for three junior high schools, but only two could be built from the proceeds of the bond sale.

The attendance at the Memorial junior high school is 1,000 and 1,200 at the Roosevelt.

Plans are under consideration by the San Diego school board for the erection of another junior high school at one of the beaches next summer, at a cost of $50,000, it was recently announced.

BOOSTING THE BEACH

At an auction sale of the houses owned by Guy Torricelles on Muir avenue this week, the auctioneer, C. J. Mansford, was most lavish in his laudations of Ocean Beach as a residential resort. His enumeration and citation of the population, conveniences, comforts, climatic conditions and other desirable advantages were generous to a most superlative degree, and proved quite entertaining to the somewhat small crowd in attendance.

Nevertheless, the oratory failed in its effect, about half of the property offered being bid in by the owner. "Andy" Kerr bought one house on a 50x100 lot for $1800 and two houses on another lot of the same size were purchased by Mrs. Canary for $2910, all payable one-third down. It didn't seem a very auspicious day for the disposal of real estate, considering the laxity in bidding by a crowd composed largely of the curios.

TWO AUTO MISHAPS

During the foggy weather that prevailed just a week ago tonight, Mrs. Mary Peace of Newport avenue and her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Romig, met with auto accidents that luckily missed a tragic ending. They were on their way from La Mesa to San Diego when their car was suddenly crashed into by another automobile, badly breaking up the running gear of their machine and otherwise wrecking it, but happily neither of the passengers was injured.

In response to a phone call, Mrs. Peace's son, Clem, came to their assistance, and on his way to San Diego his machine also met with an accident of a rather serious nature. In turning out for a farm wagon loaded with implements, among which was a heavy double plow protruding outward, Mr. Pearce's car struck the plow and was completely overturned. The passengers were thrown out and badly shaken up, but aside from somewhat severe nervous shocks all escaped serious injury.

If anyone is in doubt as to who's the "Sheriff" of Ocean Beach, full information can be obtained from some of our old-time realty men or from Chief Deputy Roy Burkhardt, when the latter isn't too busy making his Highway Special and O. B. cigars.

WHY IS A FILTER

Editor Beach News:

What has happened to our water now? All last summer the people living along the coast of San Diego were compelled to use water, "etecetra" from Lake Hodges, because the city water was denied us.

Then, after many protests from many people, there was a filter built at Torrey Pines, and we were promised pure water that would not be strong enough to run uphill.

While said filter was being built we of the Beaches were allowed a taste of city water, and were forgetting the taste and smell of the old "etecetras."

But memory was awakened with a bump a few days ago, when the water pipes delivered variously colored liquids flavored with the same old taste and smells as of "other days," so we suppose Lake Hodges has returned from its vacation, and is doing business at the old stand.

Now, we from Missouri want to ask, Why is a filter?

POPULATION OF HALF A MILLION

THAT'S THE MARK A PROMINENT BAPTIST PREACHER PROUDLY PHOPHESIES SAN DIEGO WILL REACH WITHIN OUR DAY.

The San Diego Baptist City Mission Society closed its first year with a noteworthy massmeeting of all the Baptist churches of the city at the White Temple last Sunday night and the annual meeting of the society proper on Tuesday night, when election of officers and other important matters were attended to.

Dr. W. F. Harper made an inspiring address Sunday night, in which he emphasized the great strategic importance of the modern city and foretold that there would be a population of 500,000 about the San Diego Bay within the lifetime of some present.

The new city missionary, Rev. L. P. Valentine, was introduced and spoke briefly. And the missionary pastor among the foreign-speaking peoples of the city, Rev. Augustin Apra, spoke and presented two groups of boys and girls to sing for the congregation, one singing in Italian and the other in Spanish. Dr. F. O. Belden, pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city, presided.

At the meeting Tuesday night the election of officers resulted as follows: President, Rev. F. O. Belden; vice-president, Mr. Charles N. Page; secretary, Rev. R. E. Brown; treasurer, Mr. William Reinheimer. Reports made at this meeting showed substantial progress made in the first year, with money received to the amount of $1096.39, and advance movements projected which will mean much to the future growth of the Baptists in the city, including two new sites purchased, one being at Thirty-second and J, for the work among the foreign language speaking, and the other on University avenue, at Thirty-second street.

The Southern California Baptist convention co-operates with the City Mission Society and both are under the approved plan of working of the Northern Baptist convention.

Probably the outstanding present interest of the new society is the dedication of the new Baptist Church at Ocean Beach, which is to occur Sunday, January 28, at 3 o'clock p. m.

ARMY OFFICERS VISIT ACADEMY

PRESIDENT THOMAS A. DAVIS IS HIGHLY COMPLIMENTED UPON THE FINE TRAINING GIVEN THE S. D. A. & N. A. CADETS

Major General Charles Morton, commander of the ninth corps area, accompanied by Brigadier General Joseph H. Pendleton, Rear Admiral Roger Welles, Colonel Lynch, Lieutenant Colonel Huey, Captain Gustafson and former Congressman William Kettner, visited the San Diego Army and Navy academy last Friday, January 12.

General Morton gave an interesting talk to the cadet corps, after having been introduced by Colonel Thomas A. Davis, president of the academy, and particularly mentioned the fact that he had heard of this school's record, and the number of its graduates who had been commissioned in the army and navy. He also impressed upon the cadet corps the value of the training they were getting, and said:

"We hope the time will not come when any of you will have to go into war, but if you should have to go, the training you are getting will be most valuable."

"You certainly have a fine school," remarked General Morton to Colonel Davis upon leaving the academy and expressing his regret that the program of the day prevented the prolongation of his pleasant visit.

NEW POSTAGE STAMPS

Commemorative of Washington, Jefferson and Monroe and one of Martha Washington, four new postage stamps have been placed on sale by the postal authorities.

The 2-cent Washington issue, according to original plans, was to have been placed on sale on February 22, Washington's birthday and the 9-cent issue of Jefferson on April 13; the 10-cent variety with Monroe's head on it on April 28. The heavy postal business of recent months, particularly of the holiday season, depleted the reserves of the old issues to such an extent that it was necessary to place the new ones on sale at once.

AT DAWN

By D. C. CROSBY
Ocean Beach, Calif.

When we rise at the dawn of a perfect day
And welcome the sun's first beam,
Do we ask for light upon our way
As we drift down life's stream?

Do we make resolves that all day long

Our course shall be honest and true?
Do we ask our guides to make us strong—
To help us the whole day through?

Do we pledge ourselves that we will try
To lighten a weary one's load—
To lend an ear to the needy's cry,
To guide them along the road?

To be kind unto all, to speak no ill;
To help someone else on the way,
Forgetful of self—labor on until
We come to the end of the day?

Carl Abseton, an ex-sailor, who has been in trouble with the authorities several times of late, was arrested and fined last week on a charge of stealing some timbers from an Ocean Beach house mover.

The new paved highway to Los Angeles is now open all the way without detours.

Esco Ives, the "Big Chief" of the "Goofs," has announced his candidacy for membership in the common council at the spring election.
